Sample: Arrival Basics

Coming to Jamaica is not the same as settling in Jamaica.

A good arrival does not prove that you have everything figured out. It proves that you are organized enough for the first layer.

THE RIGHT FIRST IMPRESSION

I know where I'm sleeping, I know how I'm leaving, and I can take care of myself.

GOLDEN RULE

Do not improvise your first night in Jamaica.

Mini checklist

- Confirmed first-night address
- Outbound or return ticket
- Working data
- Low-friction transport plan

Sample: First 48 Hours

Your first 48 hours should not be about solving everything. They should be about making the situation more stable.

The first day is not for proving yourself. It is for breathing, observing, calming down, and understanding what actually matters first.

KEY LINE

One useful task solved in a day is already a good day in Jamaica.

Secure first

- lodging
- food
- water
- cash
- connectivity
